Fulbright Community College Administrators Seminar - Russia	CCAS was launched in 2010 and brings senior American community college administrators to Russia for meetings and events with their Russian counterparts. The Fulbrighters learn about the Russian higher education system, including reforms that created a new system of special status, federal, and national research universities. They also examine changes in professional education as well as efforts to solve labor issues through collaboration between schools, colleges, professional training centers, universities, and employers. Because Fulbright community college fellows understand both professional and higher education in the United States, they have a wealth of information and experience to share with their Russian counterparts. And due to the significant reforms taking place in Russia and the scale at which these reforms are being implemented, the Russian hosts also have much to share with their American colleagues.  http://www.cies.org/Fulbright/Russia/seminar/ccas/ <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Eligibility: http://www.cies.org/Fulbright/Russia/seminar/ccas/eligibility.htm</li> <li>Timeline: http://www.cies.org/Fulbright/Russia/seminar/ccas/timeline.htm</li> <li>Award: http://catalog.cies.org/viewAward.aspx?n=4311&amp;dc=RS</li> </ul>	2 weeks	February 1	October 15
